

Farmers Look In Vain For Break In Drouth But Forecast Is Same Today

Heat Deaths Now Stand at 4,351 in Nation; Scattered Showers Predicted, But General Outlook Unchanged.

WPA FUNDS

Governor of North Dakota Asks That Funds Be Poured Into That State.

Chicago, July 17 (AP)—Already resigned to drouth losses calculated in the hundreds of millions of dollars, farmers of the nation's corn-belt looked in vain for a break in the adverse conditions today as forecasters reported: "No general relief sighted."

Heat deaths, although reduced in rate by more moderate temperatures in the hard-hit states of Minnesota, Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois, stood at 4,351 in the nation.

Scattered showers and slightly lower temperatures, but no inclusive alleviation of aridity, were predicted for parts of Missouri, Illinois and Indiana.

At Des Moines, Iowa, Junior Meteorologist S. E. Decker said reports indicated drouth and heat reduced that state's probable corn yield a bushel per acre each day. Iowa's death list for the current heat wave mounted to 400, more than twice as many heat-induced deaths as had occurred in the state since 1923. Scattered showers were predicted, but of insufficient intensity to reduce the costly high temperatures.

Crop damage in Missouri already was figured at $100,000,000 in a crop bulletin which added: "Much early corn is damaged beyond recovery. In the worst areas the crop is probably at least half ruined." Yesterday was the 13th consecutive day of 100-degree temperatures in most parts of the state, allayed only by rains at Houston, in the southern part, and Springfield. Today's outlook was for continued heat.

12 Millions in Indiana. Purdue University estimated the drouth had damaged Indiana's corn crop alone to the extent of $12,000,000 and that the oats yield would be only one-half of normal.

Departure of Ohio's heat-wave left crop damage figured at $10,000,000 with rain still badly needed. Blighted corn fields were spotted throughout Nebraska. A consensus by crop experts was that reasonably heavy rains within the next ten days, at most, would produce a yield ranging from fair to good.

Heavy local wind and rain storms swept parts of southern Illinois last night, damaging taller corn. Dr. J. R. Holbert, agronomist, estimated damage to the state's general corn crop had reached 50 per cent.

Grain prices on the Chicago board of trade shot up the four cent limit yesterday and held at the top, despite heavy profit taking, as traders heard pessimistic reports of conditions throughout the corn-belt.

Governor Walter Dill of North Dakota asked the federal government to liquidate "all agricultural indebtedness through federal works projects."

He predicted that unless WPA funds and benefits were distributed to relieve conditions "all federal loans will be worthless and government will own the majority of all properties within the state."

Cattle Orisk. Oklahoma predicted a cattle feed crisis within the next week unless rains were forthcoming. A field survey was undertaken to determine whether the emergency drouth area, already including 35 of 77 counties, should be extended.

Rexford G. Tugwell, federal resettlement administrator, on an inspection tour of North and South Dakota, was informed by farmers he visited enroute that their only hope was federal relief.

Tugwell promised that every available agency of the resettlement administration would be directed to provide immediate relief.

"It is an economic crisis that we must meet at once," Tugwell stated. "It is a picture of complete destruction. While live stock still appear in good condition despite the burned pastures, the animals will need feed within a short time."

Fruit, vegetables and hay were damaged extensively in upstate New York.

High temperatures yesterday included: Pierre, S. D., 112; Winfield, Kan., 112; Wellington, Kan., 112.5; Bismarck, N. D., 104.

James Brainerd Thayer. Los Angeles, July 17 (AP)—The murder trial of Robert S. James advanced a step toward the jury today upon conclusion of defense testimony with a search for a witness.

The state called several rebuttal witnesses to draw out its charge that James drowned his seventh wife, an expectant mother, after torturing her with catclaws. Arguments are scheduled to start Monday and the verdict may go to the jury on Tuesday.

Albany, N. Y., July 17 (AP)—Governor Lehman appointed today a new 15-member board of social welfare to take over all relief administration in New York state under the revised legislation passed by the 1934 Legislature.

Coughlin to Join Tour Of Townsend on Behalf Of Lemke's Unionists

Cleveland, July 17 (AP)—Dr. F. E. Townsend worked on plans today for a stumping tour with his new allies, Father Coughlin, the Rev. Gerald Smith and William Lemke, in behalf of Lemke's presidential candidacy.

Townsend announced last night that he and the other three would join in public addresses for the new Union Party ticket. Although details have not been arranged, said the pension official, they expect to visit New York, Chicago, New Orleans, St. Louis, Philadelphia and possibly San Francisco.

Meanwhile, delegates to the second national Townsend convention pondered a demand by Dr. Townsend that Gomer Smith, who failed by a close margin recently to qualify for the Oklahoma Democratic Senatorial primary runoff, be replaced as vice president of the movement and on the board of directors.

Alliance Acclaimed. Delegates yesterday wildly acclaimed the Townsend-Coughlin-Gerald Smith alliance, adopted a resolution reaffirming their non-partisanship and almost unanimously cheered Gomer Smith's speech attacking Coughlin and the Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith, satisfied heir to Huey Long's share-the-wealth following.

"He raised a controversial issue in our peaceful convention," said the bespectacled Townsend at a press conference after the Oklahomaan declared on the convention floor that his namesake from Louisiana had tried to sell the Townsend movement "down the river."

The non-partisan resolution said the Townsends are "not a political party but the greatest educational and humanitarian movement on the face of God's earth and to that end we want the field clear for the election of our congressional and senatorial candidates."

Dr. Townsend said he would demand Gomer Smith's resignation before the board of directors, which went into a long session shortly thereafter.

The members adjourned without taking any action and officially explaining that they were unable to locate Gomer Smith by telephone. Two declined to be named, however, who declined to be named, said that the matter was not discussed at all. Smith said he would not resign under any circumstances.

Further confusion was added when a meeting of the directors with "Citizens Maximal," a national advisory board to which Dr. Townsend has said he would turn over control of the movement, adjourned early today with all parties declining to discuss proceedings.

Meanwhile determined efforts were reported against an Indiana attempt of any party. B. J. Cohen of Indianapolis, claimed he had lined up 25 state delegations to support such a resolution.

"Citizens Maximal," who investigated the non-partisan resolution adopted yesterday, were reported to have acted against its movement and to be ready to act against an outright non-alignment resolution be submitted to the convention for a vote today or tomorrow.

The non-partisan resolution adopted by the President Roosevelt, Gov. Al N. Landon, Republican candidate, and Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate, to address the convention, Lemke is scheduled for a speech Sunday, the closing day.

Committee headquarters announced early today that a reply had

London, July 17—Steel bars and strong police guards encircled an incoherent "social reformer" today as a jubilant empire celebrated the escape of King Edward from possible harm by the armed malcontent.

Feverishly active, squads of Scotland Yard operatives labored to bring to light the motives which led George Andrew McMahon, 34, to level a loaded pistol at the monarch during a royal procession yesterday. Behind the bars of a London jail the bald-headed Irishman, muttered almost unintelligible denials that he meant to harm the British ruler.

"I didn't want to hurt him!" the shaking McMahon was quoted "I only did it as a protest."

(John Bannigan, McMahon's father in Glasgow, said his son's true name was Jerome Bannigan which was changed three years ago.) His questioners were unable to determine the nature of the "protest," although they did learn the crippled social crusader previously had attempted to reach Sir John Simon, home secretary.

McMahon's friends, who were responsible for his description as a "social reformer," declared he formerly was associated with Mrs. Violet Van Der Elst, Britain's militant opponent of capital punishment.

Charged with "possessing a revolver with intent to endanger life," he will be taken from Brixton jail for preliminary appearance in Bow street court.

Magistrate to Decide. A magistrate, after hearing testimony of witnesses, will decide whether to deal with the case summarily or commit the accused man for trial before a judge and jury.

In another section of the city, detectives invaded his apartment to examine and seal up its contents. The king—apparent object of the unsuccessful attack—seemed the most unperturbed of anyone in the empire over the incident. Only for an instant did his rigid bearing relax when the pistol clattered to the roadway almost under the hoofs of his mount.

He watched special constables and uniformed police hurry McMahon through the crowd, then resumed his regal posture to ride back to Buckingham Palace from a guard mount at Hyde Park.

From all parts of the empire a flood of messages of felicitation collected on the monarch's desk. He paid scant attention to these, interspersing reading of the telegrams between state audiences and perusal of official documents.

Woman's Name Withheld. The praise of London and the empire went out to a tiny figure in gray—a woman watching the parade who prevented the possible attack.

Swiftly and surely she beat down the gun in McMahon's hand and sent it clattering over the pavement as her king, brilliantly dressed in the uniform of a colonel in the grenadier guards, rode past.

To Special Constable Frank Flood—an unpaid assistant of the uniformed police—also went part of the credit for suppressing the suspected attempt on the monarch's life.

These royal protectors were acclaimed "heroes of the day" by excited crowds who grabbed wildly at extra newspaper editions.

In cafes and theatres, they rejoiced last night over the outcome of the incident and rose to sing the patriotic strains of "God Save Our Noble King."

Officials declined to disclose the identity of the woman. Accompanied by a slender girl, she was placed in a police car and whisked from the scene. The constables resumed their routine duties.

Only when the incident comes before the official court, it was believed, will authorities permit the name of the woman-hero to be disclosed.

Officer Flood, riding near the crowded curbs, saw the pistol raised above the shoulders of the crowd, authorities said. Reining his horse, he placed himself squarely between McMahon and the monarch until four husky officers stripped the tense scene and hurried him away.

Two Months of Show. Detective Inspector John Sands, who assumed official supervision of the investigation, conferred with Sir Philip Game, commissioner of metropolitan police, and then hurried to visit the home secretary for further details of the reported protests from McMahon.

Sands presented the official charges against McMahon, said he had been backed two weeks of ammunition taken from the prisoner at the scene of the excitement.

He also exhibited a black-bordered envelope, alleged to have been carried by McMahon containing a portrait of King Edward. On the envelope, Sands declared, was scrawled the phrase: "May I love you?"

A solicitor who appeared in defense of the would-be attacker told

DuBois Gillette Faces Serious Traffic Charge Of Quitting Crash Scene

C. E. Muller Suffers Double Fracture of Arm and Thomas E. Burke is Slightly Injured at Marlborough.

GILLETTE ARRESTED

Troopers Arrest Gillette on Saugerties Road and Take Him to Benedictine Hospital.

Christian Edward Muller suffered a double fracture of the right arm and Thomas E. Burke, 87 Diamond street, Brooklyn, was slightly injured Thursday afternoon when the car of Burke was struck at Marlborough, and wrecked by a car of DuBois Gillette, Port Ewen attorney and one time assistant United States district attorney in New York city.

Gillette remained at the Benedictine Hospital today where he complained of injuries to his back. Officials stated when his condition permitted he would be taken before Justice Sahler at Stone Ridge and arraigned on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

The accident happened near the Oliver place at Marlborough on the Kingston-Elizaville road about 2 o'clock as Gillette was driving his car west and the Burke car was coming in an opposite direction. An hour or two after the accident Troopers Reilly and Metzer arrested Gillette at the Kelly place on the Saugerties road and Gillette was taken to the Benedictine Hospital for treatment of a cut on the chin and for observation. At the hospital, attorney Gillette was kept under technical arrest and Deputy Sheriff Donald Tinnie was assigned to guard Gillette until his discharge when Sheriff Molyneux stated a warrant will be served charging Gillette with leaving the scene of an accident without first stopping to give his name, address and other information as provided by law.

Taken To Hospital. Muller, who was an occupant of the Burke car, was taken to the Kingston Hospital for treatment.

The Burke machine was so badly wrecked that he said he would junk it. The Gillette car was also damaged and was left by the driver at the scene of the accident, while he made his way to the point of his arrest by other means. How he was able to reach Kingston and go to the place where the Troopers later arrested him, is being investigated by the authorities.

Notice of the crash was sent to Sheriff Molyneux's office shortly after 2 o'clock and Sheriff Molyneux and Deputy Vredenburg went to the scene. Before they arrived Muller was brought to the Kingston Hospital by a passing motorist and Gillette had left the scene when the officers arrived.

Burke told the officers that as the cars were about to pass Gillette swerved his car to the left causing the crash. During his investigation Sheriff Molyneux interviewed several people and one motorist told him that shortly before the accident with the Burke car Gillette's machine had passed him and had forced him off the road in order to avoid a collision.

When the identity of the owner of the car was learned a search was commenced for Gillette and it was some time later that Troopers Reilly and Metzer located Gillette at a place opposite the site of the old Red House on the Saugerties road, and took him into custody. Gillette was taken to the Benedictine Hospital for treatment for a cut on the chin and for observation. An X-ray was taken in order to determine whether he had suffered other injuries. Deputy Sheriff Tinnie was assigned to watch Gillette during his confinement to the hospital.

To Resume Operations. Streifer's Dress Shop at East Union and Ann street which has been closed for the usual summer vacation period will resume operations Monday. All former employees are requested to report for work at that time.

Votes Nationalization. Paris, July 17 (AP)—The French Chamber of Deputies voted nationalization of the arms industry today by the wide margin of 484 to 85. Backed by Premier Leon Blum's Leftist government, the measure will clamp strict government control on the nation's large armament plants.

Location of the Eastern States Insulation Company plant at Tillson brings the third industry to use limestone to the town. All three have been brought to the town of Rosendale through the faith of A. J. Snyder in the local lime rock. Years ago Rosendale cement was the "gold" of the town and Mr. Snyder has never lost faith in the industry.

His belief is that there is no other product which can match the natural cement from the hills of the town of Rosendale and as proof of that fact can be cited the business being done by the Century Cement Company. This plant is now operating to full capacity, employing about 40 men, in the manufacture of Rosendale cement and plans are now being made to enlarge the plant to take care of the increased demand.

This morning Mr. Snyder told a Freeman reporter that plans were now completed for the installation of an additional mill at the Century plant this fall, perhaps work would be started about September and carried on during the winter months so that the demand for Rosendale ment could be met next year. The second mill would double the capacity of the plant.

The third industry to take advantage of the lime rock of Rosendale is the A. J. Snyder Lime and Rock Company, which is now operating to full capacity.

For several months through the efforts of A. J. Snyder, who has brought Rosendale cement back on the market through his Century Cement Company, and other persons interested in the development of the natural resource of the town, lime rock, negotiations were conducted with the Eastern States Insulation Company. There were several other towns desiring the location of the plant but this spring the company, which is a White Plains concern, finally agreed to erect its first unit in the town of Rosendale.

The site selected was along the A. J. Snyder Lime and Stone Company plant siding on the Wallkill Valley Railroad at Tillson where huge quantities of lime rock are available and where shipping facilities are ideal. The site for the mill was provided by Mr. Snyder along his half mile siding and the company erected its first unit where experimental work was carried on for a time and now the plant is in full operation.

This first unit of the company has a capacity of from 12 to 15 tons per day and the company has found the material at hand so well adapted to the use of manufacturing rock wool that already the company is anticipating the erection of additional units which will give a capacity of 50 tons a day.

A building 30 by 60 feet has been erected to house the plant and there are at present about a dozen men employed at the plant. This force will be greatly increased when the company erects additional units.

John E. Ketona, manager and owner of the plant, is now in Tillson and is in personal charge of the operations.

Interesting Process. The manufacture of rock wool for insulation purposes is a rather interesting process to the layman. The limestone, which is the principal ingredient, is placed in a retort or cupola of huge size and to the rock is added coke for firing purposes and a certain amount of slag which is used for a balancing ingredient. This mass is fired to a very high temperature and while the rock is in a liquid state live steam is injected into the mass and rock wool results. The rock wool insulation is fireproof, vermin proof, light and resembles wool to a great extent. It is used for insulating not only in new buildings but is also used very largely for insulation of old buildings already erected by forcing it between walls and under roofs.

At present the finished product is being shipped from the plant by rail and also by motor truck. The fact that the plant is located so close to New York city and the great metropolitan center makes it ideal for shipping by truck.

Before locating in Rosendale the company was sought by several other communities in New Jersey and nearby states where lime rock is available but after six or seven months of investigating the owners decided upon the Rosendale site as one which provided good shipping facilities as well as an unlimited quantity of raw material. The location of the plant at Rosendale brought to Ulster county the first rock wool plant in the state.

Rock Wool Insulation Now Made at Tillson

The manufacture of rock wool insulation has recently been commenced in the town of Rosendale and prospects are bright for this new industry, the third industry to locate in Rosendale and take advantage of the limestone rock formation which abounds in that locality. At present there is the Century Rosendale Cement Company, which is operating to capacity in the manufacture of natural Rosendale cement; there is the A. J. Snyder Lime and Rock Company at Tillson which is operating a lime mill and the newest industry is the Eastern States Insulation Company which has begun the manufacture of rock wool insulation at Tillson on the same property as the A. J. Snyder Lime and Rock Company.

Gilboa, Forgotten Town, Now Rises Above Water

Gilboa, N. Y., July 17 (AP)—Receding waters behind the Gilboa dam revealed for the first time in 10 years today the streets and buildings of the forgotten hamlet of old Gilboa.

Dry weather has lowered the water level to 50 feet under the previous low mark. The little community was submerged a decade ago when the waters of the Schoharie and Esopus creeks were impounded as part of New York city's water supply.

At Albany the Conservation Department reported today that 24 forest fires were reported during the last 24 hours, and that "a high degree of fire hazard" exists in all forested areas of the state except the southeastern counties and parts of the Adirondacks.

The report said abandoned camp fires and lightning were responsible for most of the fires, six of which were in the Adirondacks, five in the Catskills, three each in Cattaraugus and Putnam counties, two each in Dutchess, Orange and Otsego counties and one in Sullivan county.

The accident happened shortly before 10 o'clock as Mr. Hasbrouck was driving his car from a side road leading to Pine Bush, about a mile outside the village of Stone Ridge. The suburban operated by Jacob Boyer, 63, another of Father Divine's flock who is on one of the Father's farms at Krumville, was proceeding down the highway from the direction of Atwood. It crashed into the side of the Hasbrouck car but both machines remained upright.

Mr. Hasbrouck was treated at the office of Dr. Edward F. Shea of Stone Ridge for a sprained back. Boyer was cut on the top of his head but did not require medical treatment.

After the accident, which was investigated by Trooper McLennan, a warrant was sworn out by Mr. Hasbrouck for the arrest of Boyer on a charge of reckless driving. The warrant was executed by Trooper McLennan and Boyer was taken before Justice of the Peace Sahler at Stone Ridge where a plea of not guilty was entered and the matter was adjourned until July 27.

Two Cars Squeezed. As the big red vehicle tipped, it squeezed two parked automobiles in front of the Cornell Towing office, damaging them considerably. One was a Pontiac coupe owned by John Conlin of Warren street, and the other a Chrysler sedan, the property of Norman Spinnewer of Port Ewen. Both men are employees of the Canfield Supply Company on East Strand. The Pontiac was damaged the most. This car was moved up on the sidewalk and crushed against the Cornell Building front.

Patrolman William Leonard on duty downtown, hearing the crash, ran from the corner of East Strand and Hasbrouck avenue to the scene of the accident. Schmidt was out of the cab when the officer arrived. Sensing a fire hazard on account of fumes from the gasoline which had spilled on the street, Patrolman Leonard called the fire department and notified Sergeant Charles Phinney at police headquarters, asking for help to handle traffic.

Call Answered. Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy and three firemen, Edward Noble, Clarence Maline and William Geary, answered the call of Officer Leonard. Sergeant Phinney sent Patrolman Urban Healey from the police station to help, and called Officers Harry Martin and Peter Kereama in one of the radio cars, detailing them to the accident.

Taken to Hospital. Officer Kereama removed Schmidt to the Kingston Hospital in the radio car. He was treated for a slight cut on his head above the right ear, then discharged as he could make out a report of the accident at police headquarters.

Schmidt told Fred Stoudt, secretary to Chief Wood that his brakes failed to work on 100 of Broadway hill at St. Mary's Church. "I tried the booster brakes too," he said, "when the regular brakes failed, and then didn't work either." He tried to hold down the speed by dropping the truck into low gear, but the run down Broadway to Ferry street enabled the vehicle to develop a speed of 25 miles an hour or so, Schmidt said. Trailing along at this rate with the heavy load, he tipped the car over the turn.

When the big trailer, loaded to capacity, overturned directly in front of the Cornell building it made a crash that resounded throughout the downtown business section, and attracted many men from the downtown section. Joseph Butler of the Rhinebeck Ferry Co. said the impact seemed to vibrate the Cornell Building wherein is his office.

Employees of The Freeman also felt and heard the crash, which sounded greatly like the explosion of a boiler with the concurrent ring of metal, and several rushed to the scene. Those immediately there assisted the driver out of the side of his cab.

"I'm all right," he said, but when safe on Ferry street his actions showed him to be dazed considerably.

The paper in the trailer was marked for delivery to the New York city board of education at 152 West 36th street, and the cargo coming from the Mohawk Paper Mills in Albany, piled to the roof of the gigantic trailer, obviously made it top-heavy. This lent to the speed handicap, presumably, in preventing Schmidt from making the turn on his way to the Rhinebeck Ferry.

FLASHES OF LIFE SKETCHED IN BRIEF

By Associated Press

Mrs. Creighton First Ever Wheeled to Chair, Appelgate Also Dies

Ossining, N. Y., July 17 (AP).—Mrs. Frances Creighton, electrocuted for the poison egg-nog murder of Mrs. Ada Appelgate, was the first person in Sing Sing prison's history ever carried to the electric chair.

Semi-comatose, her head lolling against the back of a wheel chair, Mrs. Creighton was trundled into the death chamber late last night and executed along with Everett C. Appelgate, husband of the slain woman.

Appelgate, in contrast calmly walked in unassisted two minutes after Mrs. Creighton was pronounced dead. He faced witnesses to protest his innocence and invoked Divine mercy for the district attorney who had prosecuted him.

"Before I die, gentlemen, I want to say that I am absolutely innocent of this crime. I pray that God have mercy on the soul of Martin W. Littleton, of Nassau county," Appelgate said.

Finished, he cleared his throat, sat down and was put to death four minutes after Mrs. Creighton's wheel chair had first appeared in the death chamber door.

Littleton, the district attorney Appelgate referred to, said, when told of the condemned man's last words: "The law has taken its course."

Sing Sing's Warden Lewis E. Lawes said the unparalleled procedure of wheeling the 38-year-old woman to the chair was decided upon only after she had said she could not rise from her prison cot unassisted.

A special medical commission appointed by Gov. Herbert Lehman to investigate Mrs. Creighton's condition, had reported that hysterical fear had caused her to feign paralysis of her lower limbs and vocal cords.

The condemned man and woman were convicted of having poisoned a "nourishing drink" and given it to Appelgate's 268-pound wife.

The Creighton and Appelgate families had shared a bungalow in Baldwin, at Long Island.

Twice before had Mrs. Creighton been acquitted of poison murder charges. In 1923 in the death of her brother, Charles Avery, in Newark, N. J., and in the poisoning of her mother-in-law, Mrs. John F. Creighton.

Mrs. Creighton was the sixth woman to be electrocuted in Sing Sing since the chair was put into operation in 1891.

Embracing the Catholic faith but a few hours before the electrocution, she was visited only by the Catholic chaplain and her husband, John, with whom she shook hands. She gave him her wedding ring.

Appelgate spent his last hours with his 13-year-old daughter, Agnes. Led from his cell just before the execution, the girl sat in an ante room of the warden's office and munched a box lunch with an aunt and uncle.

Warden Lawes said Mrs. Creighton had wasted away in bed from 165 pounds to 125 pounds since she was brought to Sing Sing.

St. Ann's Novena in Sawkill Begins Tonight

The Rev. Father Dooley says just as March 17 is St. Patrick's day, so July 16 in the church calendar is St. Ann's day. In preparation for her feast day a novena of nine days' prayer will begin tonight in St. Ann's Church in Sawkill at 7:45 with sermon by Father Dooley of Wilbur followed by benediction and application of the rosary.

The novena Mass will take place daily at eight.

Churches in Killybeg, Ireland, have been put to various uses. The cathedral has been a stable, the parish church a temple, the

Colossus of Rhodes
Norfolk, Va.—Robert Smith, 14, took the initial step, but the fire department took the next one.

Robert decided to step from one sloping roof to the next, two stories up. He stepped, and from his Roman-riding position found the next step impossible.

Firemen rescued him, weak from the strain of his straddling.

Breakfast A La Cart
Seattle—A score of San Francisco's delegation to the Shrine convention carted a table and chairs from a cafe, calmly settled at the intersection of two important thoroughfares, ordered breakfast and would not move until they had finished.

Streetcars, buses and other traffic were held up two hours.

Big Pardon
Seattle—Life Guards Edward Whitesel and Roy Kellogg saw a swimmer splashing a few hundred yards off shore and Whitesel said "that swimmer is out of bounds. Let's go get him."

They swam through the surf. As they neared the splashing, a sea lion nosed its head out of the water and bellowed.

Feathering Nests, Maybe
Grand Island, Neb.—A Hall county farmer imported 300 turkeys to clear his field of grasshoppers.

Came evening, and the children were sent out to herd the turkeys in to roost for the night.

It was an embarrassed flock of gobblers they found, so the word goes around Hall county, for there was not a feather left in the lot.

Considerate
Mahomet, Ill.—Kenneth Maris found the pocket book he lost several days previous in a cornfield, but the grasshoppers were there before him. They left the metal clasp, the thread stitching, and a $5 bill.

The little red schoolhouse seems to be disappearing but its place has been taken by the little red and white filling station.

HOME-GROWN HEMP BAGS SOUGHT FOR MANCHOUKURO

Haikang, July 17 (AP).—Extensive cultivation of the kenaf hemp plant is being promoted in South Manchoukuo in an effort to provide a home-grown supply of gunny-bags in which to market the huge annual soy-bean crop. Bulging with beans, sacks made of native kenaf recently were hauled three times back and forth between Harbin and Dairen to prove they could "take it." It is hoped that the new crop will save Manchoukuo from importing an annual $2,000,000 worth of jute fibre from India.

Events Around The Empire State

Albany, N. Y., July 17 (AP).—June industrial accidents increased 22 per cent over the same month last year. Industrial Commissioner Elmer F. Andrews reported today. The commissioner said the June death toll was 136.

Forty-one were killed on construction jobs, the greatest number of fatalities reported by the building industry since June, 1931, he said. Eighteen died in one accident when a building collapsed. Falls killed 50, vehicle accidents 39, explosions five and burns three. Accidents while handling heavy and bulky objects caused fourteen deaths and three persons were electrocuted.

Lake Placid, N. Y., July 17 (AP).—State Senator William T. Byrne of Albany urged Election Commissioners Association of the state of New York to act in an advisory capacity to the Senate Judiciary committee in an address at the group's 31st annual convention here. Senator Byrne is chairman of the Senate committee.

Stony Point, N. Y., July 17 (AP).—A new fireproof historical museum, dedicated on the 157th anniversary of "Mad Anthony" Wayne's midnight assault on the British stronghold atop Stony Point, was opened today to visitors to the site of the old fort. The American Scenic and Historic Preservation Society, custodian of the battlefield reservation for New York state, sponsored the dedication ceremonies yesterday in which about 300 guests participated.

New York, July 17 (AP).—Ruth Nichols, Rye, N. Y., aviatrix who was severely injured a few months ago in a crash at Troy, obtained a renewal of her pilot's license at Roosevelt Field, L. I.

Miss Nichols took her tests yesterday after a practice flight with an instructor.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 17 (AP).—The Rev. Elmore McNeill McKee, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church here since 1930, has resigned to go to historic St. George's Church in Stuyvesant Square, New York city.

Hosack Falls, N. Y., July 17 (AP).—Huston Baker, 73, of Greenwich, who was found hanging in a barn on the Buskirk farm, died 24 hours later at the Hosack Falls health center. Baker was found by his nephew, Paul Baker.

Reporter Witnesses Clash As Arabs Ambush Troops

Scenes like this frequently follow clashes in Palestine between Arabs and the police or British troops. Here soldiers carry away an Arab schoolmaster mortally wounded by a police superintendent he had killed while the officer was motoring in Jerusalem.

(The following is an eye-witness account of a typical fight in the Palestine struggle between Arabs and Jews.)

By EDWARD NEIL
Associated Press Foreign Staff.

Jerusalem, (AP).—Ten trucks conveyed by soldiers move out of Jerusalem, down the long, winding, hilly road to Nablus, center of Arab hostility in the Tulkarm section.

Seared hills, browned and scorching dotted with boulders and dusty shrubs, roll up regularly on either side of the twisting road.

Trucks with Jewish workers are in the caravan. Private cars and trucks are in the line, one truck loaded with beds, and four Jews riding on the front seat.

Plane Radios Warning.
Ahead, pacing the way, goes a wireless-equipped armored car with machine guns mounted and ready for action.

Suddenly, 25 miles north of Jerusalem, the radio crackles. From an airplane overhead comes a warning that 50 Arabs occupy a long sloping hill five miles ahead.

Soldiers take their positions along the road in the glaring sun. The cry "Arabs ahead" rolls through the caravan. Detachments of Seaforth Highlanders rush out from Nablus. Two airplanes roar down to only 100 feet above the top of the hill, spewing machinegun bullets. Troops encircle the hill.

Troops Charge Hill.
At least 200 troops deploy on the hillside, charging from rock to rock, from bush to bush, firing as they toil upward in the broiling heat. Grey metal helmets reflect the sunlight. The color of rocks and shrubs.

The Arabs withhold their fire until the soldiers are near the top of the hill. Then volley after volley rings out. Then quiet.

Wounded Brought Down.
Down the hill come two stretcher bearers. Their burdens are young Arabs, neither more than 20. They make another trip. This time they bring down a large mustached man, a giant fellow, then a group of three prisoners, one with a rifle bullet in his cheekbone. These huddle in the gully, surrounded by soldiers, then are bundled off in a truck toward Nablus.

Over the hilltops the firing continues. A large corporal in the Seaforth Highlanders is hit, to die later. Two more Arab dead are brought in. Then climb.

The airplane rises higher and signals to the caravan: "All Clear. Proceed." The convoy moves forward. Another incident in the fighting is over.

Police Arrest 290 During May and June

At a meeting of the Police Board in Mayor Conrad J. Heiseleman's office in the city hall, Thursday night, Chief J. Allan Wood submitted reports of arrests for May and June, the total for the two months being 290.
There were 144 arrests in May, 135 males and nine females. Traffic violations led the list of offenses. There were 33 arrests under this head. Next came public intoxication with 33 and then disorderly conduct, 24, violations of city ordinances, 18, and juvenile delinquency, 14.
In June 132 men were arrested and 14 women. Public intoxication headed the list of offenses with a figure of 36, and next in line were traffic violations, 34, disorderly conduct 29 and violations of city ordinances 28.
Arrests during the two months for other violations besides those mentioned were for assault, vagrancy, malicious mischief, burglary, train riding and such, the numbers being distributed pretty evenly over the record.
Of the total number of offenders before City Judge Culliton in May, 36 were fined, 35 committed to jail and 38 received suspended sentences. In June 62 paid fines, 24 were committed to jail and 39 received suspended sentences.

G-Men Are Victors Over Secret Service

Washington, July 17 (AP).—J. Edgar Hoover's G-Men emerged victorious today what was reported to be an undercover conflict between them and the Secret Service.
Summoned to headquarters by wrathful superiors, several Secret Service men were enroute in from the field today to explain reports that some of their number engaged in an investigation of the G-Men's methods in hunting down western "public enemies".
Officials of the Treasury, which has jurisdiction over the Secret Service, emphasized that any such investigation was unauthorized. They indicated that if the reports proved correct, they were ready to apologize to Attorney General Cummings and to take drastic disciplinary steps against the Secret Service men in event Cummings should insist on such action.
Cummings, Hoover's superior, recently voiced suspicions that there had been some "ill-advised" activity by the Secret Service and warned that anyone trying to get Hoover's scalp would have to contend with the attorney general himself.
Treasury officials said that those ordered to Washington for questioning included Joseph Murphy, assistant chief of the Secret Service; Grady L. Boatwright, agent in charge at St. Paul, and others.

Alan Crosland Dies Of Crash Injuries

Hollywood, Calif., July 17 (AP).—Director Alan Crosland, who taught the screen to talk, is dead.
The man who alone years ago peeped at Jolson through the "Jazz Singer," the first feature dialogue picture ever made, died last night of injuries in a motor car accident.
The 41-year-old director was hurt July 19 when his heavy car struck debris from a street excavation and overturned.
New York city was Crosland's birthplace August 19, 1894, and there he tried his hand at the stage and journalism before entering the film industry in 1912.
When Warner Brothers experimented with sound, they asked Crosland to do a picture that would have spoken lines and a scene or two, with Al Jolson handling the vocal. "The Jazz Singer" was released and the talkie revolution was under-way.

Editor, Kingston Freeman,
Dear Sir:
As we are all more or less prone to censure on slight provocation, it is only fair that we should be just as ready to give credit where credit is due. In this connection I want to say that the city of Kingston deserves great praise for that fine institution it maintains for the care of those upon whom the heavy hand of age, destitution and affliction has fallen. I refer to the City Home on Flatbush avenue. Here we have all of the necessities, and most of the comforts of life. Within its walls we find the quietude and serenity so dear to the heart of those in the sunset of life. The harsh unfeeling attitude so generally associated with places of this kind, is conspicuously absent. Even the name "Poor-house" has been supplanted by the more kindly appellation, City Home. Under the humane management, yet withal efficient management existing here, conditions are as nearly perfect as a necessarily limited appropriation permits. I am sure I speak for all of us domiciled here when I say we are deeply appreciative of the care, courtesy and concern shown us.

His 100th Novel Due Next Month, Oppenheim Plots New Mysteries

E. Phillips Oppenheim, 69-year-old writer of mystery novels, is shown with his wife on their yacht. His 100th novel is to be published in August.

St. Peter Port, Guernsey, Channel Islands (AP)—With his 100th full length novel to be published in August, E. Phillips Oppenheim, writer of mystery fiction, still is working with an energy that has seldom failed him.

At 69 he is settled here, with his yacht, fishing tackle, and guns, for what he describes as "probably my last lap" in a career that has brought him international fame.

Sturdy in appearance, he has come through a recent illness excellently, his genial manner unimpaired, his good-natured attitude untrammelled.

Dictates His Books

One of the most prolific writers in the world, he works entirely through dictation to a secretary. From the typewritten sheets he afterwards constructs, remodels and revises the story. He dictates during the morning and late afternoon, always reserving two hours during the day for recreation.

His first novel, "Expiation," was written while he was a boy at school. It was published before he was 21.

"It was very bad," he says. Oppenheim has traveled since boyhood in the capitals of Europe to gather material for his detective stories and tales of international intrigue.

Studies Crime Centers

"I have visited all the principal centers where crime seems to have flourished, including London, Paris, Marseilles, New York, Chicago and many of the smaller centers of corruption in the far east," he says. "I knew something of Port Said 10 years ago and a little of Shanghai still more recently."

"Thinking over this question of criminal centers, I came to one definite conclusion, and that is that the vicious spirit has never really impregnated a place which has not been first whitewashed with the veneer of a spurious civilization."

To what extent does this veteran writer consider fiction writing inspirational and to what extent a matter of training?

Writes By "Inspiration"

He smiles: "If you can withdraw a certain grandiloquence attached to the word 'inspirational,' I should say that imaginative work is wholly inspirational. Training has very little, if anything, to do with an author's success. I have no advice for young writers except not to write unless they have a genuine urge."

Oppenheim still lives an outdoor life. During the last 15 or 20 years he has never been without a small yacht. He prefers the English country, likes rough weather sailing and sea fishing. He is fond of this little island of Guernsey and leaves it for occasional "very happy visits" to London. He hopes before long to revisit New York and Boston.

HALL OF ROMAN SENATE UNCOVERED BY FASCISTS.

Rome (AP)—Restoration of the ancient Roman curia or hall of the senate has been resumed under the impetus of fascist enthusiasm for revival of the historic empire. De Vecchi di Val Ciscon, minister of education, has ordered workmen to brace the old structure preparatory to demolition of a medieval building which has covered the original. The work was commenced on the side which fronts the new Empire Way. Fascist architects say they will be able to restore the original building entirely. The brick curia was built by

Julius Caesar and first was restored in 303 by Diocletian. About 625 Pope Honorius I converted it into the Church of St. Adrian. Modern tourists have visited the Church of Santa Martina, built into a hall of the curia which was used in ancient times for secret meetings.

If those politicians over in Eastern Europe aren't careful, the next thing they know they will be singing "I'm Danzig with tears in my eyes."

Growers Plan Summer Tour

Ithaca, N. Y., July 17.—Vegetable growers in Ulster county are invited to take part in a tour of the capital district on Friday and Saturday, August 14 and 15.

Outstanding vegetable farms in Schenectady, Albany and Saratoga counties will be visited, in addition to the Menands market, a cooperatively owned and operated farmers' market, built by the farmers themselves to solve their own market problems. Growers will also have an opportunity to visit the Schenectady public market in full operation on Saturday morning.

The tour includes farms on which experimental work is now being conducted by the department of vegetable crops at Cornell University at the request of growers. The work includes fertilizer tests, tests with rare or so-called minor elements, and experiments on cover crops.

The General Electric Company of Schenectady presents a private performance of the "House of Magic" for growers on the evening of August 14. This show was at the Century of Progress and is designed to acquaint the public with achievements in electrical research. Visitors will learn about the fever machine which can create an artificial fever, the stroboscope, the thyatron control of lights, the sodium vapor lamp, and light that can be heard, and sound that can be seen.

Ulster county vegetable growers who are interested should notify the county agricultural agent and receive more complete information.

TRAVELING STAGES SHOW NAZI PLAYS ON GERMAN FARMS

Berlin (AP)—To familiarize isolated German rural communities with Nazi trends in dramatic art, traveling theatrical companies have been sent to shed educational light in the corners of the reich.

These touring companies are not to be confused with the barnstormers of old; nor are they "guests" from large city casts. Their purpose is to place the German drama in a worthy manner before country audiences who live too far away from towns to see good acting.

The latest mechanical and lighting devices for staging a play creditably in a barn or village hall have been adapted. A few touches, and a Greek landscape changes into an interior scene, and vice versa. Movable revolving stages are being built.

The program includes nazid products, folklore dramas and classical works by Goethe, Schiller and Lessing.

Philippines Revenue Gains

Manila (AP)—The bureau of internal revenue of the new Philippine commonwealth reports that in the first quarter of 1936 the income increased more than $1,900,000 as compared with 1935. Total collections were $5,322,000.

Weirdest vacation plan to date: A man in Harrisburg, Pa., will ride 6,000 miles in railroad locomotive cabs.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Movie fans of five and maybe more American cities soon will be asked to re-write the script of the next Marx brothers' picture, "A Day at the Races." Last year, when Groucho, Chico and Harpo submitted their script in person to several western cities, about 150 changes were made in "A Night at the Opera."

That picture revived the goofy trio's popularity, indicating fans know something about movie-editing. So the boys are taking advantage of the audience blue-pencil again.

For six weeks a full company will tour with a stage production of "A Day at the Races." And by the time they get back to Hollywood, says Al Boasberg, they may have a different script.

Customers Always Right
Boasberg, a writer of comedy, worked with the Marxes on their last road tour and picture and will accompany them again. The gags and situations that amuse Duluth, Minneapolis, Chicago, Cleveland and Pittsburgh, the movie makers figure, will amuse people everywhere. Things that seem funny in the writing but leave those audiences cold will be deleted.

The routine of rebuilding plays on the road from audience reaction is not new to the theater, but it is as applied to film scripts. Moreover, says Boasberg, it is so effective they will know how good the picture is before a scene is shot.

He tells of the birth of the most hilarious scene in "A Night at the Opera." The stage script included that stateroom scene in modified form, but at Salt Lake City they decided it was not "going over."

Make-Shift Becomes Wow
The theater manager, however, protested its omission because his program had to run a definite length of time. Reluctantly, they retained the scene, began kidding it by having more and more of the cast crowd into the stateroom. Audiences began howling with mirth—and it was a clutch for the movie.

In the completed film Allen Jones sang the hit song, "Alone." On tour another song was used. After hearing it four times daily for six weeks, Boasberg couldn't remember the tune that settled that. People remembered "Alone."

"Gags" are revised on tour until they click or are thrown out entirely. Audiences are the only and final word on that score.

The "road," often called dead in the theater world today, is very much alive for the mad Marxes.

Summer is here. Unfortunately, it is a brief season—and the wise householder will take advantage of the warm months to prepare for the rigors of winter. In doing that, he should keep in mind the dangerous fire hazards that come with the cold weather—hazards which have caused millions in property damage and thousands of deaths, and yet can be easily and inexpensively eliminated. One of the most prolific causes of fire is heating equipment. The best of furnaces need periodic inspection and overhauling, as do pipes and chimneys. It is obvious that such a job can't be adequately accomplished in winter, when the furnace is in constant use. Now is the time to check up on your heating plant and to make sure it is safe and efficient. Have the work done by a qualified expert who knows his business. Amateur inspections, like amateur repairs, are often worthless.

Gooseberry Mint Relish
(Use Fresh Or Canned Berries)
3 cups berries 4 cups sugar
1 cup water 3 mint leaves
Mix ingredients and simmer 10 minutes, remove mint leaves and cook relish until thick. This will require about 15 minutes. Pour into sterilized jars and seal.

Cabbage Stuffed Tomatoes
4 firm tomatoes, 1/2 teaspoon cayenne salt
1 1/2 cups chopped cabbage 1/2 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons paprika
chopped green peppers 1/2 cup salad dressing
Mix cabbage with peppers, seasonings and 1/2 the dressing. Chill. Stuff tomatoes which have been peeled and had centers removed. Arrange on lettuce and top with rest of dressing.

Have all ingredients chilled before combining and work quickly as salads should be served very cold.

Norwegian Cakes
1/2 cup fat 3 egg yolks
1/2 cup sugar 3 egg whites
1/2 teaspoon salt 1 beaten
1/2 teaspoon vanilla 1 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon almond extract 1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 cup lemon extract 1/2 cup shredded almonds
Cream fat and sugar. Add salt, extracts, yolks and flour. Beat 2 minutes, fold in whites and baking powder. Spread 1/2 inch thick in shallow pan fitted with waxed paper. Sprinkle with almonds. Bake 25 minutes in slow oven. Cool, cut in diamond shapes and remove paper.

Mildred Bolton Plans Appeal from Death

Chicago, July 17 (AP)—Convicted of the murder of her husband by a jury which recommended the death penalty, 46-year-old Mildred Mary Bolton mapped a fight today to keep from becoming the first woman ever executed in the electric chair by the state of Illinois.

Immediately after a jury found her guilty of killing Joseph Bolton and fixed the penalty at electrocution last night, the henna-haired widow's counsel, Public Defender Benjamin Bachrach, asked a new trial. Judge Robert C. O'Connell set a hearing on the motion for July 23.

Jail attaches reported Mrs. Bolton remained composed after the verdict, which she heard with scarcely a flutter.

The decision, was the reply of 11 married men and a widower to the claim, attributed to Mrs. Bolton by two trial witnesses, that "they just don't convict women of murder in Cook county."

The widow admitted shooting her husband in his Loop office but said she originally purchased the gun to kill herself and "embarrass" him. She testified he called her a vile name and in sudden wrath she seized the pistol and fired.

Bedsprad Stitchery a Summer Note

Household Arts by Alice Brooks

Simple Motif Combines Dainty Cutwork and Embroidery

PATTERN 5598

Color in the bedroom, please! And you'll find it easy to acquire with this charming field flower motif that by its very color variety adds fascination to the work. Added to it, and easy to do, are the dainty triangles of cutwork which border the wreath and adorn the bolster; they could be used on matching linens, too. Just simple stitches—blanket, outline, lazy daisy and French knots make up this Summer motif you'll find lovely the whole year 'round. In pattern 5593 you will find a transfer pattern of one large motif 15 x 16 1/2 inches and six corner motifs 4 1/2 x 4 1/2 inches; color suggestions, illustrations of all stitches used, material requirements.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to the Kingston Daily Freeman, Household Arts Dept., 259 W. 14th street, New York, N. Y. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS and PATTERN NUMBER.

MELLOW MOON

Add 2 well beaten eggs and 3 ounces of honey to pint of milk. Shake well. Add 2 dips of ice cream or a tablespoon of malted milk, or both, if desired.

Plant a few gourds on the garden fence for the kids to play with. They make lots of vines in a hurry, and do not mind late planting.

Portulaca in the cracks between stone paving will come up quickly and make a walk colorful later in the season.

SAY! ON A HOT MORNING I'LL TAKE MORE OF THESE COOL KELLOGG'S EVERY TIME!

HERE'S an ideal hot-weather dish. Ready to serve with cool milk or cream. Delicious! No cooking or bother.

And Kellogg's are always oven-fresh when they reach your table. The exclusive WAXTITE inner bag protects them, even in hot, muggy weather. Kellogg's give you utmost value. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

REDUCE AND KEEP WELL

Off with those extra pounds this summer! No need to get two dinners, one for you and one for the family, either!

Just see how Mrs. Spratt manages. She plans a good dinner. She dishes up 476 calories of it for herself. Her dinner is well-balanced, appetizing. Then she just plans snacks that thin, hungry Mr. Spratt!

Look what he's getting! Every thing Mrs. Spratt has, plus all the better he wants, also healthy, reliable and reasonable on his collection, extra calories.

A glance at his plate shows you how just a few dash of high-calorie foods run up the caloric count. Cream and sugar in coffee, rich salad dressing, thick gravies—these are your enemies when you're reducing.

So don't let yourself get lost how much you eat. It's so easy to do that unless you have a handy list of foods counted for caloric value.

Better yet, have a list of good meals figured up by calories. Don't eat on a fork and a starvation diet, or a half-measure diet. Don't work skin or teeth on a diet lacking in vitamins, minerals and other health essentials.

Don't make it hard for yourself while you melt those bulges. Get your 44-page booklet, CHANGE YOUR WEIGHT FOR BEAUTY'S SAKE.

Two weeks of delicious, menu, tasty, interesting, with calories all counted. Plenty of cheerful encouragement from the author to keep you going. She knows. She's reduced—the same way.

Send 15c for our booklet, Change Your Weight for Beauty's Sake to Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Institute, 143 West 14th street, New York, N. Y. Write plainly your Name, Address and the Name of booklet.

Lament on the women's part—'Then All Your Beauty as a Whole' for Total Impression. It reads like victim propaganda for the totalitarian state.

Modern developments in light illumination of broad-ways including secondary and observation lights and screens, are to be adopted by Americans.

MARKETS FOR FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

New York, July 17 (AP)—(State Department of Agriculture and Markets)—Despite the fact that Catskill Mountain cauliflower receipts were more liberal, the active demand, especially for attractive quality large size stock resulted in a price advance. Best offerings $2.50-$3.00 per crate, fair quality $1.75-$2.25, poorer and small $1.00-$1.50.

Supplies of celery from Orange county were moderate. Stock in the rough, packed in half crates $1.25-$1.75, fancy well blanched $2.00-$2.25, poorer and green $0.80-$1.12 1/2. Highball crates 75c-$1.00, fancy well blanched $1.12 1/2-$1.25, poorer and green 40c-65c.

The market for snap beans of fancy tender quality was steady to firm. Uptate best bountiful and green round stringless $1.25 per bushel basket, wax $1.50-$2.00.

Prices on attractive quality big Boston lettuce tended upward. Crates of two dozen heads from the western part of the state 75c-$1.00, 40c-65c for poorer. Oswego county 50c-75c, some as high as 85c-$1.00, poorer 35c-40c. Romaine 50c-75c per crate, lettuce from Oswego county packed in crates of three and four dozen heads $2.00-$2.75 for the best, $1.00-$1.75 for poorer. Crates of two and three dozen heads $1.00-$1.50 for the best, 50c-87 1/2c for poorer.

The onion market was about steady. Orange county 50 lb. sacks yellow onions U. S. No. 1, 70c-85c, poorer and small 50c-60c.

Uptate green pea supplies and demand were moderate. Sales on bushel baskets 75c-$1.00, poorer 50c-65c.

The potato market was slightly weaker. Long Island and New Jersey 100 lb. sacks cobbles U. S. No. 1, $2.00-$2.25.

Hudson valley berry receipts were rather light. Blackberries 18c-23c per quart, currants 6c-10c. Red raspberries 7c-15c per pint.

Cherry supplies were moderate. Hudson valley 4 quart climax baskets of red sour 30c-45c, while most of the western N. Y. offerings wholesaled principally 35c.

Two-fold Defense Plan Made for Farnsworth In Navy Spy Case

Washington, July 17 (AP)—A two-fold defense was prepared today for the coming trial of former Lieutenant Commander John S. Farnsworth, who is accused of selling naval secrets to an agent of the Japanese Imperial navy.

Lying on a narrow cot in his jail cell, running nervous fingers through his prematurely gray hair, Farnsworth outlined one of the points in his defense. He insisted that he negotiated with the Japanese for the sole purpose of obtaining employment in Japanese aviation, and that he never divulged American naval data.

Relatives indicated another line of defense. They intimated it would be based on recent statements of his parents that he had been irresponsible ever since he was knocked unconscious in an airplane crash in Pensacola Bay, Florida, some years ago.

Clad only in a quarter-sleeved nightgown as he lay in the District of Columbia jail, Farnsworth told reporters his own story of the events that led to his arrest recently by the G men and naval intelligence operatives.

Again and again, he denied that he had sold to an agent of Japan a confidential copy of "The Service of Information and Security," an American navy document. He said he gave a batch of photographs and other papers to a member of the Japanese embassy, but that these were merely evidence of his experience and qualifications for the job he sought, and were not secret data. He proposed, he said, that the Japanese government engage him as a flying instructor. He asked $50,- 000 as a cash down payment, he added, and a commission and salary as commander in the Japanese navy with the stipulation that in case of war with the United States he would not continue with the job.

The negotiations fell through, he said, and "not a cent was paid to me." The 43-year old officer, who was court-martialed and dismissed from the navy nine years ago, said: "Aviation was all I knew and naturally I turned to that as a means of regaining my feet, making my comeback."

"The headlines are full of the Japanese, but as a matter of fact, they were the last I wrote to. I tried to get a job with the Chinese, Argentina, Brazil, Peru and the Russians."

Beauties to Vie in Contest on Sunday

Final arrangements for the bathing beauty contest for the selection of Miss Ulster County to be held at the Brass Rail in Woodstock on Sunday afternoon have been completed and all indications point to the most successful contest yet held.

All girls who wish to enter are requested to be at the Brass Rail not later than 3 p. m. on Sunday. Woodstock artists will act as judges.

A vaudeville show has been planned and there will be music for dancing.

Best of Everything. Troy, N. Y., July 17 (AP)—Jacqueline, Jean and Anna Marie Niskey, newborn triplets whose father is unemployed, will be kept at a hospital and will have the best of everything—at the city's expense. Mayor Chester J. Atkinson has ruled. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Niskey, were puzzled over how to provide for the youngsters, born earlier this week.

Senator Copeland to Speak at Shawangunk Trail Celebration

It is announced that U. S. Senator Royal S. Copeland will be one of the speakers at the big tri-county gathering at Ellenville this evening marking the opening for traffic of the new scenic highway over the Shawangunk Mountains. The other speaker, as previously announced, will be State Senator Joe R. Hanley of Perry, N. Y.

The program of the evening is scheduled to start at 7:30 and will be held at Liberty Square, Ellenville, Attorney Clarence A. Hoornbeck presiding. It is stated that there will be at least two bands—one from Newburgh and the Clayton Band of Ellenville—present, in addition to the Walden Drum Corps. It is possible that other communities may be represented by musical organizations.

Among those who have been extended an invitation to be present and occupy seats on the platform are prominent officials and others from Ulster, Orange and Sullivan counties.

Newburgh, according to plans announced, will be represented by a large delegation. The line of cars is to start at Newburgh at 5:30 this afternoon. Short stops will be made at Walden and Pine Bush, delegations from other communities joining the cavalcade at various points along the route, and reaching Ellenville in time for the program at Liberty Square at 7:30.

The name of "The Shawangunk Trail" has been approved by a committee appointed some time ago to select a name for the new road. The committee was composed of Mrs. Arthur V. Hoornbeck, Miss Mildred Eaton and C. Dwight Divine and their decision meets with quite general approval. To those who favored the name "Lenape Trail," the committee suggests that perhaps some time in the future that name may be given to that part of Route 17 running from Bloomingburgh westward to Binghamton, more particularly the home of the Lenape Indians.

The Kingston Business Men's Association at a meeting last week suggested to their members and to all the business men of the city that they attend the celebration at Ellenville this evening, meeting at the Rose & Gorman parking grounds and leaving in time to arrive at Ellenville before the start of the exercises.

Piano Tuner Fined $3
Winter Holder, 26, of West Hurley, a piano tuner, who learned about his business at Cornell University, he said, was arrested Thursday afternoon about 5:30 o'clock by State Troopers R. J. Dunn and Elliott of Phoenix, at Stony Hollow, for reckless driving. Justice of the Peace William Urell fined him $3. The Troopers said they arrested Holder because he pulled out of line to pass two other cars and came head-on toward their auto, forcing them to jam on their brakes to avoid a collision.

The chief drink served at a recent commemorative dinner in the Tower of London was "bragget." It had been brewed specially for the occasion by the Senior Beadle of Barnstaple. The basis of bragget is strong ale and honey. It is one of the oldest drinks known in Britain. According to legend it was the favorite beverage of Gog and Magog, the giants whose effigies adorn the west gallery of London's Guildhall.

136 Industrial Fatalities in June

Albany, July 17.—Fatal industrial accidents reported to the State Department of Labor during the month of June totaled 136 according to a summary issued today by Industrial Commissioner Elmer F. Andrews. This is 25 more than the total reported in May and 22 more than that of June, 1935. Outstanding this month was the number of deaths in the construction industry. Forty-one workers lost their lives while engaged in construction work. Of these, 18 men were killed in one accident when a building collapsed during the course of construction. This is the greatest number of fatalities reported by the building industry in any month since June, 1931.

A tabulation of these accidents compiled under the direction of Dr. E. B. Patton, director of the Division of Statistics and Information in the Department of Labor shows that 92 occurred in the New York city compensation district, 16 in the Buffalo, 15 in the Albany, 6 in the Syracuse and 7 in the Rochester district. Besides the 41 fatalities in the construction industry, 28 were in manufacturing, 19 in service, 17 in trade, 16 in transportation, 8 in public employment, 3 in public utilities and 3 in mining and quarrying.

Types of Fatal Accidents

Falls were the cause of 50 of the 136 fatalities reported in June. Among the victims of these falls were 18 bricklayers and helpers who plunged from the roof of an apartment house when a heavy brick cupola they were just completing collapsed and carried away a large section of the building. Other falls from elevations included five from ladders, seven from scaffolds, four from windows, three down stairs, two from poles, four from platforms and one from a roof. Four men and two women were also fatally injured when they fell while working on level surfaces.

Vehicle accidents totaling 29 caused the next largest number of industrial deaths. Twenty-one automobiles, five trains, an airplane and two boats were involved. Eight men were killed in auto collisions, six others were struck by automobiles, and five fell from trucks. A tank truck skidded and overturned killing the driver. An airplane pilot was instantly killed when his plane crashed. Two workers fell from trains, a laborer was caught between two freight cars, a platform man was struck by a subway train and a truckman was crushed when the car on which he was riding collided with a trolley. A coal handler was drowned when he tripped over a rope and fell from a barge. An auto salesman was also drowned when the boat he was rowing sprang a leak.

Five deaths due to explosions, three electrocutions and three cases of fatal burns were reported this month. Two workers were killed when cartridges under heavy air pressure exploded. A quarry superintendent and a powder man went to check two holes that had misfired and the dynamite in them suddenly exploded. A road worker was killed when a tar barrel exploded. Contact with high tension wires took the lives of a lineman, a carpenter and an electrician. Two salaried men were fatally burned in fire and a meat packer was scalded when a tank of water boiled over.

Other reports showed 14 deaths due to handling accidents. Nine cases of fatal strains were caused by handling heavy and bulky objects. In five more cases the workers were struck by the objects they were handling. Falling objects struck and fatally injured six men. A grocery clerk strangled on a nail and died from blood poisoning. Contact with scythe and lead caused occupational diseases that proved fatal in two cases. A construction foreman and a watchman were attacked and beaten to death. A gardener accidentally shot himself while shooting at some rats. A construction laborer died from heat prostration.

In June, 74 of the industrial workers who died left a total of 144 dependents including 64 widows, 45 children, one grandchild, one brother and nine dependent parents.

LONDON PATIENTS OPERATE SLOW, STOP, GO SIGNALS.

London (AP)—Miniature traffic signals by which the patient advises his dentist exactly how he feels as the drill sinks, have been invented by a London practitioner.

A "stop-caution-go" apparatus is on the wall before the dentist, the patient handling the controls from the chair. He gives the doctor red, amber or green lights without jerking some throbbing instrument from his mouth in order to voice his feelings.

The lights were suggested to the inventor as a joke. In perfecting the system he found the set-up had a strong psychological effect upon the patient, usually giving him such reassurance that the dentist seldom gets the stop sign.

Children sometimes become so absorbed in working the signals that the tooth is out before they decide to cry.

AT SUMMER THEATRES

Maverick—Night of January 16th.

Ten good people and true friends of Karen Andre last night in the murder of Bjorn Faulkner, the financial wizard, after one of the most dramatic trials ever witnessed in Ulster county, and received from the judge denunciation, scorn and abuse. The trial was held in the Maverick Theatre at Woodstock and Miss Andre will go through the harrowing experience each night the remainder of the week for the benefit of those who are curious about the inside story of her life with the Swedish money genius, and that should include just about everybody, for a more exciting play has never been presented in these parts.

Though changed considerably it would appear that the life of Faulkner was based upon the story of Ivar Kreuger, the Swedish match king, who disappeared supposedly from an airplane while crossing the English Channel. The story created quite a sensation at the time and it was rumored that Mr. Kreuger's immense financial empire was crumbling about him when the suicide was announced.

Faulkner, like Kreuger, was a money seeker with considerable success, and a reputation for making and breaking laws as he saw fit. He was ruthless and as Miss Andre expressed it "took everything he wanted." His association with Miss Andre began a number of years ago and after a forced affair with her the first day of their meeting she became his mistress as well as secretary, their association extending to the day of his death.

Mr. Faulkner came to the United States, to worm his way out of certain financial difficulties, met the daughter of his largest creditor and married her, but kept up a relationship with Miss Andre. On the night of January 16th, he was thrown from the penthouse parapet of Miss Andre and examination of what was left of the body after the fall disclosed a bullet wound, supposedly made by Miss Andre's revolver. Perhaps though, it may not have been Mr. Faulkner who was thrown from the roof, but one Lefty O'Toole, whose body was stolen after the last named gentleman had been "put on the spot." Anyway Miss Andre is charged with the murder and her story together with others connected with the case comes to you from the witness stand.

During the trial a neat little web of fact and fancy is drawn closely about Miss Andre, but also seriously implicated are two others, a gangster, "Guts" Regan and Mr. Faulkner's father-in-law, John Graham Whitfield. Who did the actual murder, and where and when did Mr. Faulkner die? These are the questions left to the jury, which by the way is selected from the audience.

Top acting honors last night could be divided pretty evenly between three individuals. District Attorney Flint (Frank Rothe), Defense Attorney Stevens (Robert Benton), and Karen Andre (Phyllis Ellerman). Of Mr. Rothe, an old acquaintance to Maverick goes, a good performance is always expected and last night he outdid himself in the role of the defender of the People. The other two were excellent. Mr. Benton assumed the suave mannerisms so often seen in defense attorneys and played the part to a turn. Miss Ellerman made herself our idea of just the sort of person Faulkner would have around and won sympathy with her story of an irregular but exciting life.

Three others should also receive special mention. Velma Royton as the Swedish housekeeper, Magda Svensen, won the acclaim of the audience as did Duane MacKynne as the gangster, "Guts" Regan, and Betty MacDonald as the wife of another gangster, Lefty O'Toole.

Others in the case were fine. The entire company presented a polished performance, so real that as the action gets under way the story doesn't seem to be entertainment, but a real trial with a woman's life in jeopardy. Three Kingston players with bit parts made a good showing. Henry Osterhout, John Burgerin and Edward Milliken, with the latter in the best of the bits and doing it as well as any professional.

The play, not recommended for children, is extremely entertaining and for those who was at an exciting evening replete with thrills on stage and off, no better recommendation could be given than a trip to the Maverick during the present production.

A. A. A. SOFTBALL LEAGUE

Yesterday's Results

Fallers defeated the Central Hudson boys by 16-4 at Block Park. Strong and Doyle shared the mound duty for the Hudsonites and were hit hard. Tommy Rowland was the winning pitcher. Zeller and Fatum featured for Fallers with home smashes.

The Telcos smothered the Canfield outfit by 17-9 at the armory diamond. Peiper featured with his home run walkoff. Hankinson and Van Wagoner worked for the winners while Tinner and Cudrey formed the Canfield battery.

The Board of Public Works hung up a top sided victory at the expense of the Royal Armanians to the tune of 12-2 at Haskinbrook Park. Lewis and Winfield starred at the plate with home runs while Dederick carried two triples to lead the attack. Eddie Baker was tossing them over for the winners and held the Armanians in check with four well scattered hits. Roy Van Buren outdid himself for the R's with two doubles, a triple and single. Dederick followed with a triple, double and single. Casper and Haskinbrook scored a double and a single apiece. Peiper, Baker and Dederick for R's. Curry and Smith for the Armanians.

The Telcos defeated the Monticore Ward boys by 12-8 at the Fair Grounds.

Headquarters Battery walked the Telcos at Barnum's Lot in the time of 35-4. Peiper and Dederick formed the winning battery while Peiper tossed them over for the Telcos. Peiper, Dederick and Smith featured with home runs.

POLICE OVERWHELM ASSAILANT OF KING EDWARD

Quick action by a "woman in grey" who knocked a gun from the hand of a man who was pointing it at King Edward VIII and by police who immediately arrested him and whisked him off to jail was credited with averting an attempted assassination of the British monarch while he rode a horse at the head of troops near Wellington Arch in London. This picture, taken within five seconds of the time the incident occurred and transmitted to New York by radio, shows police as they overwhelmed the man and rushed him to confinement. (Associated Press Photo)

Ferretting Out Attack on King

Officials his client did not propose to assassinate the king.

Both houses of Parliament heard in hushed silence official statements of gratification on the monarch's escape.

In the Commons, Sir John Simon said: "The whole house will be profoundly thankful that the risk to which His Majesty was exposed was so promptly averted."

Another Incident

Another member of the royal family, the Duke of Kent, youngest brother of the king, was the center of an incident in a crowd at Plymouth yesterday while inspecting members of the British Legion in Guild Hall Square.

From the crowd, a woman ran toward the Duke apparently intending to shake his hand. Former soldiers, members of the Legion, restrained her as police rushed up. Many of the authorities working on the case were represented as believing McMahon was suffering from a delusion and grievance. Possibility was expressed the prisoner might be examined by physicians to determine his exact mental condition.

Police said McMahon's record showed he was sentenced to a year's imprisonment in 1933 for allegedly libeling the police. The case was appealed, however, and the sentence quashed.

McMahon's association with Mrs. Van Der Elst began when he helped her write a book supporting her beliefs in opposition of capital punishment. He was also said to have once edited her magazine entitled "Humanity."

Denies Knowing McMahon
The feminine crusader, however, denied knowing the prisoner.

The behavior of King Edward was lauded by residents of London, who declared the monarch "acted in the tradition of kings" during and after the disturbance.

His only notice of the incident came with a slight turning of his head as his horse shied from the gun.

Coolly, the king resumed his ride to the palace. There he saluted his mother, Queen Mary, who watched the arrival of the procession from a balcony.

Shortly afterward he went to St. James's Palace for luncheon. Then he rode to his country home in Fort Belvedere where he enjoyed a game of golf—winning from his opponents.

In the evening the king returned to St. James's for transaction of business affairs and the usual state audiences.

Will Stick by Husband

London, July 17 (AP)—Mrs. George Andrew McMahon, dark-eyed wife of King Edward's alleged attacker, said today "whatever it means to me, I shall stick by him."

"My husband was always kind and good-humored," she declared as she left their flat to see her husband in jail. "We have been very happy. It is all quite beyond me."

"Why, my husband always stood up when the national anthem was played. He always talked to me with affection for the royal family."

Further Grief Stricken

Glasgow, July 17 (AP)—John Buchanan, grief-stricken father of George Andrew McMahon, sobbed today "to think one of my family would come to this."

He said his son, held in London for an alleged attempted attack on King Edward, changed his name from Jerome Buchanan to McMahon three years ago.

"It has been 10 years since I last heard from Jerry," the 57-year-old Irishman, almost blind, declared. "What has happened to him in the interval I do not know."

"I must keep the news from my wife," Buchanan said. "She has been bed-ridden for 12 weeks and now never knows what effect the shock might have."

Two Persons Injured When Three Autos Crash at Mt. Tremper

Sheriff Molyneux and Deputy Sheriff Clayton Vredenburg while investigating the automobile accident in the town of Marbletown, were called to Mt. Tremper, where three cars had been involved in a collision on Route 28.

The Mt. Tremper accident occurred about 2.30 and two of the parties concerned, Jay D. Browning, 70, of 295 Albany avenue, Kingston, and Catherine Byfield of 510 Manhattan avenue, New York city, were injured. Mr. Browning was badly shaken up and sustained bruises about the body. He was treated by Dr. Charles A. Quinn of Phoenixia. Miss Byfield was cut about the knee and leg.

The accident happened, according to the story told to the officers, when the Browning car, driven by Giles J. Browning of 382 Albany avenue, and traveling west, slowed down when it came to where a car driven by Harry L. Edson of 65 Johnston avenue, Kingston, who was accompanied by Mrs. Edson, had stopped awaiting a chance to turn into a property on the left side of the road.

Following the Browning car was one driven by James A. McHugh, colored, of 301 West 153rd street, New York. It struck and damaged the rear of Mr. Browning's new Ford, which went off to the left, escaping a milk truck which came along at the time, headed toward Kingston and then struck the Edson car, which was also damaged.

With McHugh were Miss Byfield and James Flood of Princeton street, Jamaica, L. I. The three have been spending some time at a camp near Shandaken.

No arrests were made.

Five Year Naval Program.
Tokyo, July 17 (AP)—A five-year naval program costing 2,000,000,000 yen ($50,000,000) was reported by two Japanese newspapers today. The program includes construction of at least two capital ships and extensive expansion of the naval air force in 1937-38, the papers declared.

Orville Knapp Dies In Crash of Airplane

Boston, July 17 (AP)—Gloria Grafton, musical comedy star, sought seclusion today, grief stricken over the death of her orchestra leader bridegroom of two months, Orville Knapp, in an airplane crash late yesterday.

Knapp, 28, was practicing emergency landings at nearby Beverly Airport when his plane fell 150 feet to the ground.

Witnesses said Knapp, a brother of the movie actress, Evelyn Knapp, was about to land when apparently he decided he needed more altitude. He opened the throttle but the plane dropped.

The impact shoved Knapp's body through a partition between the first and second cockpits. His body was not identified until John Shepley, operator of a Boston airline and friend of the musician, flew to Beverly and established identification.

Knapp met Miss Grafton while she was playing in "Jumbo" and he was leading his orchestra at a hotel and was booked for an engagement in New York July 29.

His wife collapsed when she heard of his death upon her return from a shopping tour.

Sleepy Vagrant Was Believed Dead

Francis Cragmyle, 40, a Scotch veteran of the British Army, not accustomed to retreating, found it a handicap to him Thursday night when pursued by State Troopers R. J. Dunn and Elliott, patrolling the Phenicia territory.

Cragmyle, according to his story to the troopers, was tired after a long, hot, hard day on the road, and lay down to sleep on the roadside near Bushnellville last night about 8 o'clock, and fell into a deep sleep no sooner than his head touched the ground.

FORM POLITICAL ALLIANCE

Twenty-Ton Truck Upsets On Ferry St.

Trucks for three years. He said the truck and trailer that tipped this morning are new, being only two weeks old. The load he had on was picked up at the Mohawk Paper Company in Albany and was made up of drawing paper for New York city schools.

Three mechanics from Doc Smith's Garage unhooked the GMC truck from the trailer, then pulled it up on its wheels with their wrecking car. Nothing could be done with the trailer until it was relieved of its cargo, and the job of unloading it was started after the truck had been released.

soon as they "find the time". "Neither of us has any time to get married," complained Miss Pons, who has had only three months' vacation in five years. In the next breath she added "If someday he has the time—I will have the time." Kostelanetz, blond, blue-eyed orchestra conductor and pianist, is the "preferred person", she admitted. "The place doesn't make any difference," she smiled. "I have no preferred place—just a preferred person." The little singer implied that she would be married long before February.

Mutilation of Girl Remains a Mystery

Asheville, N. C., July 17 (AP).—The mutilation death of pretty, blond Helen Clevenger in her hotel room yesterday remained cloaked in mystery today as authorities opened a routine inquest.

As the coroner's jury began calling witnesses, Sheriff Lawrence E. Brown and his deputies intensified their investigation in secrecy.

They questioned Prof. W. L. Clevenger of North Carolina State College, the girl's uncle, seeking any connections which might have a bearing on the case, but declined to reveal the results.

Grunenwald Leaders Score Early, Seasickness Added to Problems of Complete Schedule Of Open And Second Half, First Round Games

The Kaslich A. C. champions of the first half of the City League, received a setback last night at the Athletic Field from the red-hot bats of the Grunenwald Home Leaders. The final count was 10-3.

Keefe Chambers and Bob Bush were on the mound for the A. C. and their slants failed to curb the Leaders from running up a total of 12 hits. This barrage of bingles, coupled with the ragged fielding of the Kaslichs, turned the game into a rout. Big Joe Mahar tossed them over for the Leaders and held the A. C. boys to seven hits. The only time Joe was in danger was in the seventh when two runs were scored by the losers.

The Grunenwalds wasted no time in starting the fireworks. Turk and Kelly, the first two men up, hit safely. A hit batsman then filled the bases with no outs. Embree hit to DeBrosky, who started a double play, adding a hard single that scored two runs. Mahar and Purvis hit to continue the Leaders' assault in the second. Don Kelly scored both with a hot single. Three more men crossed the platter in the third to bring the score up to 7-0 for the Grunenwalds. Chambers had been retired in the second after walking a man but Bob Bush suffered the same fate and was pounded hard in the third. Cadd immediately hit, followed by Dulin, who advanced to second. A hit and steal by Purvis scored Gadd and put runners on second and third. Scherer's hard smack over the second baseman's head sent in both men.

The A. C. tallied for the first time in the third when Merritt hit a double and went across on Andy Celuch's free bagger. Two more markers resulted in the last frame from hits by DeBrosky, Messenger, Bush and infield out.

The Home Leaders scored their last three runs in the first half of the seventh when Celuch and Flanagan muffed Purvis' fly that scored Dulin. Scherer hit to account for two more runs.

Game Tonight

The Hedrick Brewers and Huron Indians will clash tonight. Joe Brown or Ed Murphy will get the ball for the Hedricks while Manager Baumgarten will probably use Charles Neff.

Seasickness Added to Problems of Olympians on Board Manhattan

Aboard S. S. Manhattan, enroute to Berlin, July 17 (AP)—Avery Brundage of Chicago is slated for election to the international Olympic committee to succeed the late General Charles E. Sherrill.

The American Olympic committee president declared today he "knows nothing" about the proposal, but the Associated Press learned Brundage already has been agreed on by international committee members and will accept.

The place defaulted by Ernest L. Jahnke also is due to be filled. Two New Yorkers, Gustavus Town Kirby, treasurer of the American Olympic committee, and Murray Hulbert, have been mentioned for the position.

Phillies Win Again, Give World An Occasion for Eyebrow Lifting

By The Associated Press.

It may be only a flash in the National League's red-hot pan, but those Phillies are giving the baseball world an occasion for some eyebrow lifting.

Although they're still a long way from the first division, let alone the top of the heap, they've been the hottest outfit in the big leagues since July 1, and the only club in their loop to keep up with the pace set by the galloping Cubs.

They made it ten victories against four defeats since the first of the month, two in a row over the Cardinals, and spoiled Dizzy Dean's return to action by teeing off against the "Great One" yesterday and burying him under a 6-2 score. "Old Dix" lasted just five innings against the slugging Phils in his first start since a line drive knocked him unconscious and out of the lineup last Saturday.

The defeat for the gas house gang left it two full games back of the Cubs, who also won their tenth start out of 14 since July 1 by turning back the Boston Bees 1-0 in a ten-inning affair, on the strength of Lou Warneke's four-hit hurling.

Back in spring training the "wise boys" said the Phils if they were dangerous at all, would be dangerous because of their pitching, but their hurlers have been the weakest link, and their power, as in the past, has been at bat.

In their drive, they've averaged 10 hits a game, and they haven't lost a series in more than two weeks. Bill Dickey and Joe DiMaggio led the Yankees to a 5-2 win over Detroit, boosting New York's pace-setting margin to ten full games.

The beating bounced the Bengals out of second place, and the wild hitting Indians from Cleveland moved in with 7-0 walloping over the Athletics—their sixth straight win.

The Red Sox, with Jimmy Foss hitting homers number 25 and 26 to take the big league lead, climbed back into the first division by splitting with the St. Louis Browns. The Sox lost the first 6-3, and then won 5-4.

Boston's advance was at the expense of Washington which fell again before Jimmy Dykes' Chicago White Soxers, 9-7, and dropped into fifth place.

In the National League, the Giants won over Pittsburgh 7-6, when Mel Ott hit his 17th homer with a mate on base in the eighth inning. The Reds and Dodgers were idle.

Ray Billows Starts Defense of N. Y. Title

Syracuse, N. Y., July 17 (AP)—Youtful Ray Billows, Poughkeepsie printing clerk who won fame as the "Clarendon Boy of Golf" in winning the New York State Amateur Golf Championship last year, began first round match play in defense of his title today, an overwhelming favorite to repeat his scintillating 1935 performance.

Medalist yesterday with a one under par 63 over a hole of more than 200 yards, the hard hitting 22-year-old downslater attacked on against Ed J. Rowe, native son, in his opening 18-hole match. Rowe was seven strokes behind Billows in the qualifying round.

Golden Glovers to See Action Tonight At Woodcliff Park

The fifth round of the Hudson Valley Golden Glove Tournament, sponsored by the American Legion, runs each Friday night at Woodcliff Park, Poughkeepsie, will get under way tonight with what promises to be another bangup show similar to the one of last week which had more action than ever seen before.

In the feature event Buddy McKenna of Poughkeepsie will meet another local favorite, Wildman Eddie Steele, for supremacy in the welterweight class. The match has turned out to be somewhat of a crux affair and by the time displayed by both boys last week it should develop into a hard fought duel.

Joe Furlin of Middletown who put the skids under the popular Harry Porter of Millbrook will meet his equal as a puncher in Charley Perry of West Point who scored a KO last week in record time.

One of the most vicious fought encounters seen hereabouts in some time was witnessed last week when Phil Gusk of the CCC Camp at Staatsburgh met Gene Alton of Ossining. Alton received the decision but it was so unpopular with the fans a rematch was natural.

A special heavyweight bout will bring together Bill Kaminski of the CCC Camp at Staatsburgh and Gunner Smith of West Point.

Sherwood Smith of Middletown who showed considerable form in scoring a knockout in his first appearance will meet a tough and hard punching lightweight in Tom Amala of Poughkeepsie.

Bank Jackowski another Poughkeepsie favorite for middleweight honors who has won four successive matches will be tested in meeting an experienced opponent in Buck Manning of Ossining. The winner will meet the winner of the Furlin-Perry bout which is a stand out match on this week's card.

Baseball Camp for Young Players Will Open at Rochester

Rochester, N. Y., July 17—Taking no chances on overlooking any young ball players of ability, the Rochester Baseball Club has assigned two highly competent scouts to the baseball tryout camp which it will operate here starting Monday, according to an announcement today by Warren C. Giles, president of the club. The camp will continue for approximately one week.

The scouts who have been assigned to conduct the trials for young players in the camp are Charles Keilner, who for more than 30 years has been known as one of the most colorful scouts in the game, and Joe Mathes, a former major league star who for a number of years has been devoting his energies to managing minor league clubs and scouting.

Boys between the ages of 17 and 23 are eligible to attend the camp, Giles stated. The only requirements are that boys pay their own traveling expenses to Rochester and their living expenses while here. Boys must also furnish their own shoes, gloves and uniforms. Giles added that a boy can secure a thorough try-out by spending three to four days at the camp and that those who make good and are signed to contracts would have their expenses incident to attending the camp refunded.

The camp will be held at the Red Wing Stadium on Norton street. The first session will start at 9 a. m. Monday. No recommendations are necessary. All that boys have to do to secure a tryout is to appear at the park.

Registered Shoot by Ulster Co. Gunners; Thursday's Scores

A registered shoot will be held at the Ulster Co. Gun Club grounds Sunday, July 19.

Shooting starts at 1 p. m. A good attendance is expected as the last shoot was washed out by an all day rain June 14th.

At the skeet field of the club Thursday afternoon twelve shooters shot at 850 targets.

The best score of the day was made by Pat Osterhoudt, closely followed by Hyatt and Zeeh.

State's Safest Driver

Albany, N. Y., July 17 (AP)—The New York State Automobile Association is seeking the Empire State's safest driver, its president, J. Mack Young, said today. Young said hundreds of candidates for the honor have filed applications with automobile clubs. To be eligible, a motorist must have driven a private car for 10 years and covered 50,000 miles without a traffic accident or conviction of a traffic violation.

Tom Mix Circus Here on August 6

Dan Pyne, advance agent for the Tom Mix Circus, was in Kingston yesterday making plans for the arrival of the big show in this city on Thursday, August 6. The circus will play at the Fair Grounds and will have a troupe of 823 people. The tent will have a seating capacity of 10,000 and will also feature 1,000 animals. The Tom Mix Circus is the successor to the John Robinson-Sells-Floto organization and it will be the biggest unit to show in Kingston this year. Mr. Pyne said that many people had the faulty impression that the Tom Mix Circus was a wild west show and nothing more. He wanted to correct this belief by saying the big show is a complete circus in every sense of the word as the public will realize when it arrives in Kingston, August 6.

Syracuse Band at Golden Rule Inn

Music history repeats itself tomorrow night at Golden Rule Inn when patrons meet one of the youngest assistant concert masters in America. Carl Siffer at 23 years of age holds the enviable position of first violinist in the Syracuse Symphony Orchestra. After long negotiations with the sponsors of this 70 piece class A Orchestra, permission was granted to Mr. Siffer to accept an eight weeks' engagement at the inn.

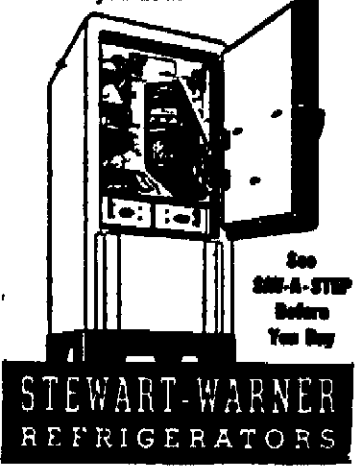

His musical offerings will revive memories of the famous Cornell Collegians, for both in dance and dinner music his style reflects the schooling of the conservatories at Syracuse and Ithaca.

This ensemble plays an hour's supper music nightly from 6 to 7 p. m. and during Sunday dinner hour 1 to 2 p. m.

Chesterfield
...because it has the right kind of Turkish tobacco in it
Turkish tobacco is expensive—that's true—every pound has to be imported 4000 miles.
But it's one of the biggest reasons why Chesterfields taste better.
It's another reason why you'll like the aroma—it's more pleasing and fragrant—the Turkish in Chesterfield is another reason why Chesterfield wins.
